Running to God

When everything is going great in our daily lives, we do not bother with potential problems that may happen in the near future. We just continue doing our daily routines with no worries in mind. However, when a tragedy occurs when we least expect it, that is when our God comes to mind immediately. Now depending on the severity of the problem we will most likely run to our God for help. My point is this, is it not feasible for Christians to turn to God when He's most needed? I mean didn't God say to turn to Him for all things? But here is the problem I have with that statement, because I say, shouldn't we turn to God for all things concerning life? Good or bad? My point is this, we should always be in constant communication with God whether things are good, or bad. We should never leave God out of lives, because without God in our lives...our lives are meaningless. So, whether life is good or you are going through a rough spell in life, include God in your life as often as possible.

Psalm 127:1-5 (NKJV)

Unless the LORD builds the house, They labor in vain who build it; Unless the LORD guards the city, The watchman stays awake in vain. It is vain for you to rise up early, To sit up late, To eat the bread of sorrows; For so He gives His beloved sleep. Behold, children are a heritage from the LORD, The fruit of the womb is a reward. Like arrows in the hand of a warrior, So are the children of one's youth. Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them; They shall not be ashamed, But shall speak with their enemies in the gate.

John 14:12-14 (NKJV)

"Most assuredly, I say to you, he who believes in Me, the works that I do he will do also; and greater works than these he will do, because I go to My Father. And whatever you ask in My name, that I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If you ask anything in My name, I will do it.
