

As Time goes on

Time is something that never stops no matter what. I'm speaking in our temporal physical world that we currently live in. I have performed many funerals in my life time and know this for a certainty, the cycle of life continues until God says otherwise. My father-in-law passed last Sunday and we had a memorial for him this past Saturday, and driving home from the services, Debbie and I realized that it's our turn to be the grandparents now. That feat has landed on our laps and there is no getting around it now. So ladies and gentlemen all the wrinkle creams or hair tonics will not stop the inevitable, we are getting older and gravity and time is not on our side. We must live the roles that we are given and live our lives for our God. Like it or not we must make the most of our lives and it begins and ends with God's Holy Will. My advice is this, win as many souls as you possibly can before leaving this temporal physical world.

Proverbs 16:31 (NKJV)

The silver-haired head is a crown of glory, If it is found in the way of righteousness.

Proverbs 23:22 (NKJV)

Listen to your father who begot you, And do not despise your mother when she is old.
